Youth Employment Programs at EEC Seeking Both Employers & Participants

Youth employment programs at EEC seeking both employers and participants.

Does your business have more work than you and your current staff can handle during the summer months?

Or are you a young person who is still looking for employment to help pay upcoming post-secondary school expenses or for other important expenditures?
EEC can help with both of these questions!

The youth employment programs at the Employment and Education Centre are designed to help young people who are looking for summer work as well as local employers who are looking to hire summer workers.

“We know that there are employers out there who are still looking to hire their summer staff,” commented Lesley Patry, who is in charge of summer programming at EEC. “And we also know there are some young people who haven’t yet started looking for summer jobs.”

Employers who are looking to hire young people this summer are invited to contact Jessica Horton at 613-498-2111 ext. 372. or Jessica@eecentre.com

For more information, contact Lesley Patry at lesleyp@eecentre.com
